

You tell Klein that Prozacovian can't wait. You ask him to make sure the whaling tape at the computer center is well guarded while you're away, and head for the airport.